TACOMA CONFIDENTIAL
A True Story of Murder, Suicide, And A Police Chief's Secret Life
by Paul LaRosa

Gig Harbor, Washington was a quiet Tacoma suburb that knew little of tragedy and scandal—until April 26, 2003. On that day, David Brame, distraught over his impending divorce, shot his wife to death in a busy public parking lot. Then, with the couple's two children only a few feet away, he turned the gun on himself.

It was a horrific event, but Tacoma residents had special reason to be shocked. David Brame was, after all, the chief of police. Paul LaRosa details the horrifying event in TACOMA CONFIDENTIAL (Signet; January 3, 2006; $7.99).

But as the investigation unfolded, a bizarre and depraved side of Brame and his marriage came to light. Here, in chilling detail, is the full story of one of Gig Harbor's most violent and disturbing crimes.
